Long-Life Oil

Prolonging frying
Protecting the environment

The high performance long-life oil that's set to shake up your kitchen. With a proven ability to fry for longer – without a premium price tag – new Pro by Sime Darby Oils' state-of-the-art sustainable refinery in Liverpool delivers exceptional performance. In frying trials against similar UK products, PRO Long-Life Oil outlasted its rivals by up to 20%!

Produced with the professional chef and caterer in mind, PRO Long-Life Oil is the number one choice for sustainably sourced cooking oil that lasts longer to give exception cost in use savings.

- For many chefs, the taste and flavour of an oil is the primary factor in their selection. Great visual and tasting food is our key goal. We have substantial knowledge and expertise in delivering the best frying oils to many markets and sectors in the UK and beyond. Delico PRO contains a high amount of natural anti-oxidants and tocopherols. This makes the oil more stable when cooking at higher temperatures. Also, they play an important role to prevent oxidative deterioration of the oil. Why not work with a high quality frying oil which last longer than a standard frying oil, without a premium price tag?
- We are proud to be the first European sustainable refinery and have substantial knowledge and expertise in delivering the best oils to many markets and sectors in the UK and beyond. You can trust us to offer full traceability through our independently certified estates. This offers peace of mind for everyone in the catering industry in the wake of recent food scandals.
- Sime Darby Oils is also a pioneer in sustainability. Our oil plantations are widely respected as world leaders in setting new standards for responsible and sustainable agriculture, protecting the environment and livelihoods of our workers and local communities. So your environmentally-aware customers will know you're taking your responsibilities seriously with new PRO.
- PRO is a great product for Chefs and Business with a great storey of Sustainability to assure we are all doing what we can to protect our environments.

Pro comes in 15 Litre tubs which offers clients easy handling, easy pouring, convenience and great storage in ambient form.
