Frying Oil

TWENTY Prolonging frying
TWENTY Protecting the environment

Sime Darby Oils is one of the world's leading producers of certified sustainable palm oil. We offer our own branded range of Delico® frying oils.

Delico® TWENTY is designed for daily-use frying in the professional kitchen. One of the advantages of TWENTY is the oxidative stability of the oil. This means that Twenty lasts up to 20% longer than a standard frying oil. So, Twenty is a high-quality frying oil based on 100% sustainable palm oil.

All the palm oil in our Delico® TWENTY comes from our own estates in Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands. The independent organization RSPO certified all our estates. We control the supply chain from the planting of the seeds to refining in our own dedicated refinery. Hence, you can trust us that all our sustainable palm based products can be traced back to the source.

Which means that you get...

Quality

We only choose the finest seeds to grow our elite trees. The highest quality sun ripened fruits are then selected for harvesting. Besides, we have state of the art refining facilities. This ensures the highest quality and safest frying oils.

Value

There are no middlemen involved in our supply chain. This means no third party costs or mark-ups, enabling us to keep costs to a minimum.

Performance

All our products undergo stringent quality control testing and extensive evaluation. We always deliver the frying performance you need.

Sustainability

Consumers concern more and more about where their food is coming from. All our RSPO certifies palm oil we use come from our own estates and associated smallholders. So, we can trace back all the palm oil used in our products.
